MidMo Etsy: Elaine Durchholz and Sugar Maple Lake

by BECKY NEEMS on NOVEMBER 23, 2013 7:00 PM · NO COMMENTS

Elaine Durchholz finds her own way to keep warm this winter. She crochets scarves, boot cuffs, hats and ear warps for her etsy shop Sugar Maple Lake. Durchholz had her first showcase at the Holiday Wine and Cheese Festival yesterday at the Columbia Country Club. Before the event she spoke with us about her crochet items on her shop as well as her artwork on her self-titled etsy shop.

Vox Talk: It's your first time showcasing your items. How did you find out about the festival?

Durchholz: They found me on Etsy. They were looking for some local vendors to have at their event I was excited to be a part of it. Previous to this I was just on Etsy selling to friends, through work and family members.

VT: When did you start crocheting?

Durchholz: I've been crocheting since I was 10. I look online for patterns. I try as I go, designing as I work.

VT: When did you put the items on Etsy?

Dürchholz: I started my shop last winter. It was funny how it started. I broke my left hand from a car accident. I realized at that time that I can't crochet if that arm's broken. I had a thumb cast. It took a longtime to heal, so I couldn't crochet. Finally after I got it off I made a ton of stuff. I thought "Well, I've given all my friends stuff, what am I going to do with all of this?" I had a lot of friends tell me how much they liked it. So I started a shop. I had several sales in the middle of December last year.

VT: What are some of the items in your shop?

Dürchholz: I have lots of scarves, cowls (tube scarves), hats and boot cuffs. Sometimes boots are too tight down at the ankle to wear thick socks. It's nice to have a little edge of color peeping out of the top of your boot.

VT: How do you come up with your designs such as the boot cuffs?

Dürchholz: I've seen people wearing them. I saw them on Etsy. I developed some of my own patterns like lacy designs, give a little frilly edge. Bobbles are my favorite pattern as well as the stars and adding those for fun textures.

VT: What other things do you crochet?

Dürchholz: I make circle scarves, triangle scarves and ear wraps. I make ones that have a star pattern almost like a snowflake. Bobbles are my favorite pattern as well as the stars. I add those for fun textures. I have a hard time making anything simple. I like interesting patterns. I also have new hats with pom poms. I just started making them. I've got a bunch ready for the country club show.

VT: How long does it take for you to crochet an item? How many hours do you spend maintaining the shop?

Durchholz: I spend 20+ hours a week on the shop. Depending on the items, hats and boot cuffs take a couple hours (to make). Some of the scarves take up to six to 10 hours.

VT: What's the most popular?

Durchholz: Lacy scarves were popular last year. I've sold a few ear wraps. It's a double thickness and soft acrylic yarn. It's machine washable. They fit loosely so they don't make a crease on the hair. Even with the tassel hats.

VT: Do you have anything planned for the new year?

Durchholz: I want to progress into stuff for kids. Like cute little hats especially for new born babies during photo shoots. I also want to get into working with all natural fibers. I can get them from a friend's local alpaca farm, Alpacas d'Auxvasse. Alpaca wool is super warm. I like the idea of supporting other small businesses. I'm kind of a hippy about using natural fibers.

VT: What about your self-titled Etsy shop where you sell artwork? What types of things can be found on there?

Durchholz: I do water color and colored pencil drawing. I also do portrait commissions. I've been getting into pet portraits. Other than that, my original work I like to do is flowers. I've drawn (inspiration) from nature a lot.

VT: Which shop do you think is most popular?

Durchholz: It goes in between both (shops) a lot. It depends on whichever I'm focusing on, painting or crocheting.
